

THE WISE CITY DADS

ALL TORN UP OVER CHARGES AGAINST CHIEF CUDDY.

A Committee Appointed to Investigate Certain Scandals About the Payment of "Backsheesh" by Chinese Gamblers—The Outfall Sewer Assuming Definite Shape.

The City Council held its regular weekly confab yesterday, beginning at 10:15 a. m., with Councilmen Humphreys, Chandler, Book, Bosbyshell, Sinsabaugh, Moriarty, Mathews, Collins, Lovell, Gibbs, Hanley, Hiller and Teed present, and Chairman Humphreys presiding.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Before proceeding to regular business a communication from Clerk Teed was submitted, suggesting that the law requires the Council to begin its session as a board of equalization, to continue every week day until August 5th. There are six large books to be reviewed, and the clerk suggested that it would probably form "a menial job." It was determined that, immediately upon adjournment of the regular session, the Council proceed to organize as a board of equalization.

THE IMPEDIMENT IN LOS ANGELES STREET.

A letter to the Street Superintendent from Wells, Van Dyke and Lee was submitted, reviewing the arrangement with Mrs. Bigelow for the opening of Los Angeles street across that lady's land. Before the street can be opened the $12,000 agreed upon must be paid over, Judge O'Melveny having so decided. It was stated that the Los Angeles street fund is from $150 to $200 short of the required amount. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee and City Attorney with a tacit understanding that the shortage would be made up from one of the city funds. Mrs. Bigelow had materials hauled to the disputed land last week for the erection of a building thereon, but this was without the advice and contrary to the agreement of her attorneys, and work was subsequently stopped. If the building had been erected it would have proved a serious obstacle to the final opening of Los Angeles street.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

was submitted and adopted without debate. A recommendation from the Street Superintendent to secure regularity in sidewalks and to regulate the use of canjans was referred to the Chief of Police and the Zanja Committee.

Old specifications Nos. 1 and 4 for street paving were rescinded and new specifications adopted in their place.

On motion of Capt. Barrett, the Street Superintendent was allowed another clerk at $100 a month, to meet the increase of office work in grading streets under the Freeman Act.

On motion of Capt. Barrett the Street Superintendent was instructed to repair the Buena Vista street bridge at an expense of not more than $300.

On the petition of some ladies holding the franchise for the Avery Gas Company, the plant of which is partially completed in East Los Angeles, the franchise was extended one year.

AFTER THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Charges preferred against Chief of Police Cuddy by Wong Que, alleging complicity in the Chinese gambling games and the levying of tribute from the same for the benefit of the police department were read by the clerk.

A petition from Wong, a Chinaman, was submitted, asking that police protection be extended equally to all Chinese aliens, and that no irregular contributions be levied on them by the police department.

A motion was made by Mr. Lovell to refer the whole matter to a committee of three for investigation.

Mr. Barrett moved to lay the whole matter on the table. "There are no affidavits connected with the petition," he said.

Mr. Collins believed the Chief had never received any contributions from Chinese and was entirely innocent.

Mr. Barrett amended Mr. Lovell's motion to the effect that the matter be referred to a committee of three for investigation, provided the petitioners enter into a bond to pay the expense of the investigation if the charges are not proven. "The city squandered $700 in an investigation last year," said the Captain, "and I don't want any more wasted in that way."

Dr. Sinsabaugh thought the entire matter should receive full investigation. If this Council would throttle an honest attempt to throw light on such serious charges it is a different body from what he thought it. He said that these charges were not by any means new. Charges of corruption in the police force had been rife for a long time, and they should either be proved or disproved.

TURNING THE TABLES.

Mr. Chandler suggested that charges should rather be made against Ah Mow, Ah Toy, and Ah Wing, the three Chinamen who have been receiving $30 a month from each of the Chinese gambling games. These Chinamen can be arrested; why not proceed against them?

Mr. Book believed that the investigation should be held to get at the bottom of the whole matter. If the Chinamen named are implicated, proceed against them.

Mr. Barrett wanted to ask the Clerk why these charges were brought to the Council instead of being submitted to the Police Commissioners. He grew somewhat heated, and demanded that the Clerk answer his question.

The Chairman said Capt. Barrett had no right to ask such a question. As he had a right to submit a petition to this Council, Mr. Collins suggested that petitioners be notified to put up a cash bond of $1500 to indemnify the city for expenses of investigation.

Capt. Barrett renewed his motion to lay the whole matter on the table.

Mr. Book moved.

A SUBSTITUTE TO ALL MOTIONS.

that a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to report on this matter at the next meeting of the Council, without any expense to the city.

Capt. Barrett amended that all affidavits that have been filed with the Mayor or the Police Commission relative to official bribery be submitted by the committee in its report.

Before the amendment could be put, Capt. Barrett moved to lay the Chinese petitions on the table.

The wrangle went on apparently without promise of end, and meanwhile Chief of Police Cuddy came into the room, and there was a motion to hear from him, which failed to even start.

WANTED TO TALK.

The Chair was proceeding to put Mr. Book's substitute, requiring a report from the investigating committee without expense to the city, when Capt. Barrett arose in his might and insisted on his motion to lay the Chinese memorials on the table. In the Council believe that the committee could act on the tabled petitions as well as though the documents were regularly referred, which was undoubtedly the Bourbon idea of parliamentary practice. The Captain insisted on his amendment so strenuously that the Chair finally recognized his claim, and proceeded to put the question of tabling. Pending aye—Collins, Chandler and Barrett, and the noes—Book and Gibbs. Mr. Collins jumped to his feet with a motion to adjourn, and it was put to vote and carried amidst considerable confusion.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After some lively caucusing in the Council chamber, the body was rapped to order at 1:30 p. m.

Capt. Barrett moved to proceed with the regular order of business.

Dr. Sinsabaugh amended to proceed with the question pending at adjournment. The amendment was carried. Ayes—Collins, Chandler, Bosbyshell, Sinsabaugh, Teed, Mathews and Humphreys. Nays—Collins, Moriarty, Barrett and Hanley.

WANTS TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Chief of Police Cuddy then addressed the Council on the subject of the charges pending. He urged that the law provides a form by which charges against an officer shall be brought, which is first by an affidavit that shall be submitted through the Mayor. If the Council wishes to investigate his official conduct, he would render any assistance in his power to that end.

Mr. Humphreys stated that the trouble had always been to obtain an affidavit against the Chief from any Chinaman preferring charges. There is not a single affidavit on file in the Mayor's office now.

Mr. Book urged that the matter be referred in an informal way to the committee for a report as to whether the charges should be preferred in a regular manner.

The City Attorney said that the communications from the Chinamen were competent to be referred to a special committee, even without an affidavit.

THE CHIEF'S BACKERS VOTED DOWN.

The roll was called, on Capt. Barrett's motion to table, with the following result: Ayes, Collins, Barrett, Hanley, Moriarty, Mathews, Collins, Lovell, Gibbs, Hanley, Hiller and Teed present, and Chairman Humphreys presiding.

Mr. Book's motion to refer the subject to a special committee was then taken up and carried by a vote of 13, Mr. Barrett voting aye.

Mr. Chandler moved to reserve from the committee all charges against the Chief, as they had not been brought in the form provided by law.

Capt. Barrett gave notice that next Monday morning at 11 o'clock he would move for a reconsideration of this question. Captain claimed that during the pendency of his notice no action could be taken under the resolution.

UNAMBITIOUS COUNCILMEN.

The Chair ruled that the committee could be appointed under the motion, and all proceedings could go on. He appointed on the committee Messrs. Book, Bosbyshell and Teed, all three of whom asked to be excused. Mr. Teed was urgent in his request, as he had declared publicly that he believed Mr. Cuddy to be a failure as a chief of police.

Dr. Sinsabaugh was appointed in place of Mr. Bosbyshell, but the Doctor also declined.

Chief Cuddy hoped that members of the Council would not refuse to serve on the committee, as he courted investigation.

Mr. Chandler moved that any member who refused to serve be fined. [Laughter.] The Chair announced that the committee as appointed—Book, Teed, Sinsabaugh and Hiller—refused to serve the matter must fall to the ground.

Mr. Collins objected to a Democratic chief of police being by investigation committee of whom a majority are Republicans.

This raised a storm, and the Chair offered to appoint Mr. Collins in place of Mr. Teed. Mr. Collins refused to do so, and the committee as already named was confirmed.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The Council then proceeded to consider the report of the Finance Committee. A little jangle arose over a proposition of the Finance Committee to destroy a warrant drawn for the payment of work on the east-side levee because property-owners had not decided a 20-foot strip according to agreement. A motion to destroy the warrant was lost, and it was decided to leave the warrant in the hands of the Mayor until the property-owners produce their deeds.

It was decided to cancel several other warrants, which had been drawn through error or in duplicate.

INVENTORY OR NO INVENTORY?

The recommendation of the Finance Committee that the City Engineer file a complete inventory of maps, field books and instruments in his office raised another discussion.

A motion of Capt. Barrett to lay all on the table except the inventory of instruments was voted down, while a motion for the full inventory was lost on a vote of 9 ayes to 4 nays—failing for want of 10 votes to authorize the expenditure of money.

A list of audited accounts reported by the Finance Committee were ordered paid.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

The report of the Fire Commissioners was submitted. The recommendation to lease engine-house from P. H. Leumart at $20 per month was rejected, and the Clerk instructed to readvertise for bids.

The recommendation of the Board of Trade for the collection of building statistics, the secretary of the Fire Commission to keep a record of new buildings and issue permits, exacting a fee of $1 in each instance, brought the great objector, Mr. Barrett, to his feet, but after Mr. Barrett's motion to table had been voted down the recommendation was adopted.

SPRINKLING HYDRANTS.

A proposition from the City Water Company to erect sprinkling hydrants at a fixed price of $2.50 each per month for eight months of the year was referred to the Council by the Board of Health. After considerable discussion it was referred back.

A recommendation that the City and Garvanza water companies be requested to furnish temporary pipes for the relief of residents on North Workman street and Downey avenue was adopted.

A bill of the Los Angeles Construction Company, held over from last week, was ordered up and ordered paid with the understanding that the warrant shall not be presented until after next tax-collecting time.

A motion of Mr. Book, ordered that an ordinance be drawn forbidding bathing and shooting at city reservoirs.

A report of Commissioners Solano and Stovell, on Courthouse and Hope streets, was submitted, showing damages to property-owners by change of grade amounting to several thousand dollars. Referred to City Attorney.

THE OUTFALL SEWER.

The City Surveyor reported completion of preliminary survey for proposed outfall sewer, south of city boundary to Ballona Creek, a distance of 69,037 feet, with estimated cost of same about $300,000.

On motion of Dr. Sinsabaugh, it was decided that the sewer be built of brick.

The matter was referred back to the Sewer Committee, with power to act in obtaining right of way and taking all necessary steps for hurrying the culmination of the project.

A half hour was wasted by the honorable, etc., in getting its bearings on the question of amending the various street grading specifications to make them conform to the requirements of law Nos. 1 and 4 were suitably doctored, and the City Attorney was requested to reconstruct the other faulty specifications and submit to Council for amendment.

Faulty resolutions of intention to grade streets under old specifications were repealed and new ones adopted in lieu thereof.

On motion of Mr. Hanley, the Southern Pacific Railroad Company was requested to plank its tracks in front of the Capitol Mills, in the rear of Naud's warehouse, and at street crossings in East Los Angeles.

Resolutions of intention to establish the grade of numerous streets were passed, and sundry bids for street work were read and referred to the Board of Public Works.

The Council then adjourned, to which it reorganized as a board of equalization, with the Mayor in the chair. Having organized according to law, an adjournment was taken until 7 p. m., Tuesday, July 17th.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A startling business proposition. A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Balm would have on her case of dyspepsia and sick headaches. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following is the story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

DEAR SIR: I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Balm did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe I would never be cured of my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will not out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler.

"The Substance of Things Hoped for,"
The Evidence of Things Unseen.

There are two different kinds of advertising: The merchant who advertises because he has something of interest to impart to the general public, and the merchant who, on account of a waning trade, employs the agency of the newspaper to follow in the wake of a successful competitor—always just a little bit behind.

Acquired faith differs from the genuine article. Nineteenths of the people of every nationality would rather see a thing and know it to be exactly as described than believe it to be the truth from mere hearsay.

A BURNT CHILD DREADS THE FIRE.

Now, suppose, for example, we tried to make the people believe that we did more business than all the other houses in this city combined; well, they wouldn't believe it. Suppose, again, we said our sales people numbered about 175; they wouldn't believe it. Why? Because both of these propositions are improbable. The people, one and all, can easily see for themselves that if one firm of one or more members would or could do the entire business of the town, then it would control everything and become a self-constituted monopoly. Competition is the life of trade. The latent powers of a merchant are brought into full play when the exigencies of the occasion demand it, provided that he has the ability. "Business is business." Mere advertising will not bring about desired results unless values back it. Value is what the people want, and value is what they are going to get, or else know the reason why. A PROBABLY supposititious correspondence of the Herald, signing "Temperance Republican," deprecates the immorality of Republicans who permit Tippecanoe veterans to drink hard cider. Judging from the twaddle which the Democratic papers prints they must be getting awfully hard up for arguments.

We commend yesterday's incident of a man walking off, after coolly shooting another down on the sidewalk, to the consideration of the Herald, which is so fond of calling attention to the fact that the Los Angeles police force is the best in the world, and that "never in the history of the city were life and property safer than at present."

Some time ago a number of large employers of labor went to Albany and got an anti-conspiracy law passed, with the intention of prohibiting the boycott as a weapon of warfare by the trades unions. Now the workmen propose to demand the prosecution under that law of manufacturers who combine to crush outside competition under the guise of "trusts," such as the Sugar Trust and the Standard Oil Company. The Attorney-General has already given an opinion that the law is applicable to such combinations. This furnishes an interesting example of the manner in which laws sometimes work in more ways than the one in which they are intended to.

THE Democrats are not very fortunate in the selection of their battle-cries. The bandana has been so woefully criticised and "guyed" that they are rapidly becoming ashamed of the rag, and now an Italian correspondent writes to an eastern paper inquiring if Judge Thurman is an Italian. He has observed that he is called an "old Roman," and he cannot understand the significance of the term, unless it means that he was born in Rome and consequently is an Italian. Considering the antipathy that is felt toward Italians just now by many eastern laboring men, the Democrats will have to be careful how they create the impression that the hero of the bandana is a native of sunny Italy.

In view of all the capital which the Democrats have been making—or attempting to make—out of the connection of Gen. Harrison's ancestor with Cromwell, and therefore, by a truly Democratic method of reasoning, with the ancient wrongs of Ireland, it is really too bad to discover that the supposition of Gen. Harrison's descent from the Maj.-Gen. Harrison of Cromwell's army turns out to be erroneous, the mistake evidently having grown out of a confusion of names. Thomas Harrison was a religious fanatic, in many ways resembling John Brown, and eventually came to the same end. The ancestors of Gen. Harrison were simple, industrious farmers and tradesmen, no more connected with the regicide or his family than all the Browns are connected with old John Brown, or all the Smiths with Capt. John Smith. His nearest known ancestor was Benjamin Harrison, who was Governor of Virginia when it included the Northwest in its area, and a member of the Continental Congress.

Postpone the County Nominations.

We referred a few days ago to what we believe to be a grave error committed by the Republican County Central Committee, in calling the County Convention for so early a date as the 26th of this month. We find that the almost unanimous sentiment of our Republican citizens, outside of the ranks of the professional wire-pullers and jugglers, is so strongly in accord with what we then wrote that we now recur to the subject, in the hope that the County Committee will see fit to modify their proposed action in deference not only to the Republican sentiment of the county, which they are supposed to represent, but also to the welfare of the local and national party, which their ill-advised step threatens to jeopardize.

From the date of the nominating convention, as now fixed, until the election would be over fourteen weeks, which is undoubtedly a much longer period than is either necessary or advisable for candidates to be running the gauntlet and bearing the expense of a canvass. So protracted a campaign would severely handicap our nominees by tending to wear them out and placing them in a very disadvantageous position as compared with their political adversaries. Not only this, but to an unprejudiced mind this action carries on its face the appearance of jobbery. It looks too much as if the object was to facilitate the carrying out of an already fixed-up programme—the nomination of a fixed slate which has already been decided upon. It appears—not only to us, but to a majority of impartial Republican voters—as if the committee desired to lessen the chances of candidates other than those who already have their wires laid.

Against any such unfair mode of procedure we, in the name of the Republican voters of Los Angeles county, enter a most decided protest. We would remind the committee that whatever their object might be, the object of the majority of the voters at the coming election is to secure the best material obtainable to fill the county offices during the ensuing term. The setting of the nominations for so early a date is calculated to defeat this object. The best men are not always the first in the ring. On the contrary, the opposite of this proposition is more nearly true, if we are to attach any weight to the saying that "the office should seek the man." There are many good men who have not yet declared themselves, but who may be prevailed upon to allow their names to come before the convention for county offices, provided the business be not indecently hurried. There is evidently nothing to be gained, but very much to be lost, by making the nominations at so early a date. Such action would be most decidedly against harmony in the party, and to that extent would play into the hands of the enemy. Moreover, it would undoubtedly have a prejudicial effect upon the national ticket for such local complications to exist during a campaign which should be distinguished by unalloyed enthusiasm in the Republican ranks.

It must not be. The danger may yet be avoided. Let the convention meet at the appointed time, and after transacting such general business as may come before it, adjourn without making any nominations until a later date—say about September 20th. This would afford ample time for the local campaign. We are convinced that in doing this the committee would carry out the wishes of nine-tenths of the Republican voters of the county, and at the same time greatly strengthen the excellent prospects of the party for a brilliant victory this fall.

The committee is expected by the people, whom it is called upon to act for, to do its duty and reject the impudent, back-door interference of the scheming boss who is moving heaven and earth to "run things," and run them into the ground.

The Council and the Gamblers.

In the City Council yesterday the subject of bribery on the part of Chinese gamblers, which has been frequently agitated by THE TIMES, again came up, in the shape of a communication from a Chinaman, accusing the Chief of Police of violating his oath by permitting gambling games to run, in consideration of the payment of hush-money, while those which refused to pay such bribes were raided. The petitioner prays for an investigation. A motion was made to refer the matter to a committee, whereupon the inevitable Mr. Barrett jumped up and moved that the motion be laid on the table, because the statement was not sworn to. He wanted to know why the paper had been allowed to be read, and desired to have it thrown into the waste basket. After a long debate, a motion to investigate was carried. Mr. Barrett, of course, giving notice of a motion to reconsider next week.

Unless the voters who elected Councilman Barrett belong mainly to the undesirable class of the community—which we do not believe—they must feel anything but proud of the manner in which this representative invariably devotes himself to the defense of evils which good citizens would gladly see abolished. This question cannot, however, be settled in any such off-hand manner. These charges of corruption have been made so openly, so vehemently and so repeatedly that the Council owes it to its own honor and that of the city to thoroughly investigate them. Every attempt to avoid or postpone such investigation will only confirm the belief in the minds of the people that the charges are true, and that there is a great deal more behind them. Let the matter be probed to the bottom without further delay.

John Sherman on Restriction.

W. A. Bell, Esq., a prominent Pomona Republican, sends THE TIMES the following letter received by him from Senator Sherman two years ago. In transmitting Mr. Sherman's letter our correspondent says: "His good, common-sense view of this question is characteristic of this great man on all public questions, and should have great influence with all who honestly desire to determine which is best for the country—license or attempted prohibition."

SENATE CHAMBER,
WASHINGTON, July 19, 1886.
My Dear Sir: Your note of the 15th is received. The speech to which you refer was a campaign speech made in 1884, and I have not a single copy here at hand. The revenue derived by the National Government from whiskey, levied in the form of gallon tax and special taxes, is shown in the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, a copy of which I send you, and has had a great influence in reducing the consumption of spirits. Most of the States have now a high tax, sometimes called a license, which is having a very excellent effect in restraining the use of liquor, while every instance of the attempt at actual prohibition has resulted in ruin and failure. I feel as much interest in the cause of temperance as any one, but, as a practical man, have not thought that extreme measures are warranted. No limitation in my opinion to the proposed action of transferring the Weather Bureau to the proposed new department of agriculture, assigns as a reason that the cost of the service would be greatly increased while its best officers would be removed and most inefficient material retained.

MISCELLANEOUS.
Representative Morrill of Kansas, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, today reported favorably the Senate bill to extend the benefit of pension laws to ex-Confederates, but having their disability removed, have since enlisted and become disabled in the United States Navy. Petitions numerously signed were presented to the Senate by Mr. Edmunds, from the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce, and from the canners and packers of Baltimore, Cleveland and Portland, Or., praying for the repayment of duties paid on imported wine made in cans and exported, containing American products. A pension has been granted to Charles G. Ellis of Los Angeles. The bureau of offerings today amounted to $471,000. The Secretary accepted $30,000. J. Harvey Brigham of Louisiana, United States Consul at Jamaica, died at Kingston last night. Mr. Randall is reported much better this evening. It is the best day he has had since the beginning of his illness.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.—Fanny Davenport made her first appearance here last night, in Fedora, Victorien Sardou's strong drama of Russian life. It is a question whether the lovers of the drama do not gain something for each year of youth that an actress loses; certainly so in the case of Miss Davenport, who, having to a large degree lost the rounded beauty and statures of her early stage days, has yet gained everything else, and in fact, has made a service amounting almost to a mechanism in the first act of Fedora. Even the usually touching scene of Vladimir's death, with its accompaniment of closed doors, hushed voices, weeping servants and devoted wife, was coldly done; but had every action, every word previous to the final scene of "Fedora" and her lover been worthless, the power, refinement, the physical reality of that would suffice to redeem the whole. Fanny Davenport's "Fedora" is one of the accepted triumphs of the stage, and criticism, in its ordinary acceptance, is superfluous; but to one who has seen a decade ago it seems like a new creation. In fact, so has that fiery but crude creation been added to and subtilized, that it is at once wonderful.

Death by poison is now one of the things no well regulated play can afford to be without, but among those heretofore witnessed, Fanny Davenport's act is easily first. Mr. Melbourne McDowell lacks nothing of the physical perfection so necessary to a leading man, has a sweet and finely modulated voice, and is a man of great presence, but fails to assert his role, that he is on his drawing-room behavior, makes his presence and existence as the lover of a "Fedora" an artistic thing. The comedy as a whole is good, the minor parts being carefully attended to.

Fedora will be given until Thursday, when "La Tosca," a woman like but unlike "Fedora," will be essayed by Miss Davenport. The opera-house was excellently filled, and the recalls cheerfully frequent.

AT THE PAVILION.—Miss Evans, having recovered from a slight illness, gave better excuse for her name of "the little electric battery," but played to only a moderate house. Tonight, Foggy Ferry.

GOING FOR BLOOD.

The Amiable Maj. Bell wants His Brother Thornton Disbarred. Bell is at a law office, and his brother, C. C. Stephens, with a sharp stick. He has filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court charges as long as the moral law, in which he accuses Stephens of all kind of things, and asks that he be disbarred. The charges against Stephens grow out of the Bell-Thornton-Stephens libel suits, which have been before the courts the past 18 months. Bell claims in his charges, which are sworn to by himself, that some months ago C. C. Stephens, the brother of B. A. Stephens, one of the defendants, and also the attorney for B. A. Stephens and Thornton and Wells, came to him (Bell) and informed him that both his brother B. A. Stephens and Capt. Thornton were ready to go back on Wells if Bell would dismiss the suits against them. Stephens, the lawyer, claimed that his "fool brother" and Capt. Thornton were reduced by Wells to get up the document on which the libel suits were brought. Bell also claims that C. C. Stephens told him that his brother was to go back on Wells if Bell would dismiss the suits. For these reasons and many others C. C. Stephens told Bell that he was ready to go back on Wells and prove by his brother and Thornton that Wells was to blame in the whole matter. He and Bell had many consultations regarding the dismissal of the suits against his brother and Thornton, and they had arranged so that the cases were to be dismissed when called, but Bell claims to have learned subsequently that C. C. Stephens was playing him false, and refused to dismiss the cases. For these reasons Bell asks that C. C. Stephens be disbarred. The case will be tried by the Supreme Court at its next session in the fall. Stephens claims that the whole story is false.

The Independent Labor Party Resolves to Stand by Harrison and Morton—Randall's Condition Much More Hopeful—Pensions Proposed for Ex-Confederate Soldiers.

By Telegram to The Times.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The Fuller case was reached and taken up in the Senate in secret session today, and the matter was informally talked over. Some members of the Judiciary Committee took occasion to say that there had never been a purpose on the part of anyone in the committee to postpone action till the next session, as has been charged, and while they were opposed to his confirmation, their reasons were entirely of a public character. The case went over, being unfinished business at the adjournment.

TO INVESTIGATE IMMIGRATION.

Speaker Carlisle has selected as the committee to investigate the importation of contract laborers, convicts, paupers and other classes of immigrants in violation of law, Messrs. Ford of Michigan, chairman; Oaks of Alabama, Spolner of New York, Morrow of California and Guenther of Wisconsin. The committee may conduct its investigations at such times and places as it may deem proper, and will sit through the recess of Congress, and for persons and papers. No limitation is placed upon the amount of the expenditures of the committee. The committee will begin its investigations in New York as soon as it has organized. The first task it will undertake will be to investigate immigration to New York city. The committee will visit the Pacific Coast later to investigate the matter of Chinese immigration.

GEN. GREELEY DISGUSTED.

Gen. Greeley today said that he has no present intention of asking to be relieved, but is unwilling longer than the interests of the service require to hold an uncertain tenure of office in a bureau which must steadily deteriorate unless reorganized under a strict examination as to competency. He, in his opposition to the proposed action of transferring the Weather Bureau to the proposed new department of agriculture, assigns as a reason that the cost of the service would be greatly increased while its best officers would be removed and most inefficient material retained.

WILL VOTE RIGHT.

The Independent Labor Party for Harrison and Morton. DETROIT, July 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The Grand Council of the Independent Labor party of the United States met here this morning to decide upon their policy for the coming campaign. After discussing the platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties, President Taylor moved that the vote of pension bills, endorsed as candidates of the Independent Labor party for President and Vice-President. The motion was carried unanimously.

Resolutions were adopted declaring that the Labor party does not approve of President Taylor's vote of pension bills, and that the interests of the workingmen can best be served by a protective tariff, and that every soldier ought to vote for Harrison, who served his country on the battlefield, instead of Cleveland, who sent a hired substitute. The convention then reflected the old officers and adjourned.

A WARNING.

The Grand Army Must Not Be a Partisan Order.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.), July 16.—[By the Associated Press.] Commander-in-Chief Rea of the G. A. R. today issued letter No. 9, calling the attention of members to article 11, chapter 5, of the rules and regulations, providing for the non-partisan character of the order, and follows it up with a special caution to veterans to avoid the appearance of partisanship by refraining from wearing uniforms at political meetings. The order is the result of a good deal of gossip among the old soldiers of the Harrison and Morton Club here, and the candidacy of State Commander James Edge for the office of Sheriff. "The Club has nothing to do with the G. A. R.," however.

A SUNDAY TRAGEDY.

DANVILLE (Va.), July 16.—On Sunday last a party of men gathered at Axton, Henry county, and made merry with whisky and hard cider. Lee Earnes tried to drive his mule over Hamblin Turner. Turner struck the mule with a barrel stove. Hot words passed, and Earnes alighted. Gas Earnes took Lee's part, and Davis stepped up and declared that he would defend Turner. Gas Earnes told Davis that he was not afraid of him. Davis drew a pistol and shot him dead, and then turned and shot Lee Earnes twice, inflicting mortal wounds. After the shooting Davis fled to the woods. The Earnes boys have many relatives in the county, and much excitement prevails.

Gen. Sheridan's Progress.

NONQUITT (Mass.), July 16.—Gen. Sheridan's physicians have issued the following bulletin: "The General did not rest well in the early part of last night, having a slight gastric disturbance. This passed off, however, and after midnight he was more easy. He has rested well today, sleeping frequently. He has relished his food and digested it well. His pulse has been regular all day. His respiration is nearly so, and his temperature normal."

A Railway President Arrested.

NEW YORK, July 16.—N. S. Littlefield, president of the Jacksonville and Tallahassee Railroad, was arraigned in the Police Court today, charged with passing a worthless $50 check, signed by H. S. Beardsley, and payable to Littlefield's order. He paid the money and was discharged.

THE COURTS.

The Hall-Kegel Case Ends in Smoke.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, after a vacation of 16 days, Judge Cheney of the Superior Court opened Department No. 1. The people of the State against A. W. Hall, charged with an assault to murder Henry Kegel, was the first case called. The bright District Attorney moved to dismiss the case on the ground that he did not believe he could get a conviction for want of evidence.

The hearing on a motion to quash summonses in four cases of the State against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for maintaining a nuisance was set for the 28th inst. at 9:30 a.m.

Beno Schmidt's romantic case was the next one called. It will be remembered that Benno is the young man who ran away with a Santa Monica girl some months ago, the girl being under age. Benno went into the County Clerk's office and swore that she was of age. The youthful couple were married and thought their troubles were over, but the girl's parents, who objected strongly to the young man, on his appearance and had him arrested on a charge of perjury. He was held in the Justice of the Peace before whom he was taken, and the case was set for trial in the Superior Court yesterday. In the interim, Benno and his new son-in-law made for and their new son-in-law yesterday the District Attorney moved to dismiss the case on the ground of insufficient evidence to convict.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Nelson, the "fence," was called and set for hearing on the 21st inst. The woman is charged with the $2000 heist.

THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

The United States District Court convened yesterday for the purpose of listening to a partial report of the Grand Jury. That body brought in indictments against four persons, two of whom are accused of selling liquor to Indians.

They also found indictments against F. S. Methvin and John L. Sebastian, ex-postmaster and deputy at Springfield, Ventura county. The young men are accused of tampering with a registered letter, full particulars of which appeared in THE TIMES when they were arrested. Their bail was fixed at $500 each. They will be arraigned today.

The jury also found an indictment against Antonio Ales, the Indian who murdered a companion at San Jacinto a few months ago. The case was ordered transferred from the Superior Court to the United States District Court for trial.

The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

The United States Circuit Court was in session a while yesterday, and the case of the United States vs. the Southern Pacific Railroad Company was argued and submitted.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Teamster Throws From His Wagon and Instantly Killed.

Tom Butler, an old resident of this city, and for several years superintendent of the Main-street car line, was accidentally killed yesterday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock near the corner of Vine and Second streets. Butler, who was still in the employ of the street railroad company, had gone to the depot for a load of ties, and on returning found a railroad train across the street. He stopped his team about 100 yards from the crossing and waited for the train to pass out of the way, and when it did so started up his horses. A young man named Springer was on the wagon with Butler, and the horses, seeing the train and another on the track, started to run, when one of them fell down, bringing the vehicle crashing to a sudden stop. Both men were thrown to the ground, the wagon passing over Butler's body, breaking several ribs. A number of ties were also thrown from the wagon, several of which struck Butler, one of them fatally wounding him. Butler, who was instantly killed, was lying on his back, and when he was found he was dead. Springer was injured, but not seriously. The remains of the dead man were removed to Orr & Sutcliffe's place on Spring street, where Coroner Meredith held an inquest last evening, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death. Butler left a wife and three children, who reside near the Washington Gardens. The funeral will take place today.

A GAMBLER'S ROW.

Three Bullets Lodged in the Body of Arad Howe.

Last night shortly after 8 o'clock a gambler named Arad Howe was shot and probably fatally wounded by another gambler named Harry Wicks, in front of McGinnis' saloon, on Main street. The trouble grew out of a dispute between Wicks and another sport named "Butch" over a game of "crib," in which they had been playing, and in which "Butch" accused Wicks of cheating. The matter was apparently settled, but last night the two men met when the dispute was renewed, which resulted in Wicks striking "Butch" over the head with a revolver. Howe, who was standing by, interfered, when Wicks turned on him, shooting him three times, one bullet taking effect in the left breast just above the nipple, one in the side and one in the shoulder. Dr. Gresham was summoned, and Howe was removed to his room in the Grand Central lodging-house on Los Angeles street. Wicks walked down Main street after the shooting, and up to a late hour, had not been apprehended. The officers are looking for him and all the depots are guarded, so that he can hardly get out of the city.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

At 3:05 this morning Wicks walked into the police station and gave himself up. When questioned by a TIMES reporter he refused to talk and said he did not wish to make a statement until he had seen a lawyer. He seemed to be greatly excited. He stated that he had just come from a friend's room, where he had learned that the officers were looking for him. After closing up he stated that he shot but because two men jumped on him. He was locked up.

SUPERVISORS.

Convened as a Board of Equalization—Routine Business.

The Board of Supervisors met in the old courthouse yesterday morning as a board of equalization. The following business was transacted:

The report on the telegraph road was received and filed, and on motion of Supervisor Venable, time of hearing was set for 10 a.m. August 9th. The Clerk was directed to notify non-consenting land-owners.

In the matter of widening the Downey and El Monte road, the report of viewers was filed, and on motion of Supervisor Venable the time of hearing was set for 3 p.m., August 9th. The Clerk was directed to notify non-consenting land-owners.

In the matter of the County Tax Collector, on motion of Supervisor Venable the resignation of County Tax Collector J. R. Crawford, heretofore filed, July 10th, was accepted, and on motion of Supervisor Venable O. Bullis of Compton was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Bullis presented a lengthy petition, asking that he be appointed.

In the matter of the indexes for the new assessment roll for 1888, on motion of Supervisor Venable the Clerk was directed to advertise for five days in the daily Tribune and daily Telegram for bids for printing the roll. The question of the competency of the bidder will be taken into consideration. The board reserves the usual rights. The board then adjourned.

The Marietta Centennial.

MARIETTA (O.), July 16.—The second day of the centennial celebration opened with 100 guns, and the early trains and boats brought in people in great numbers. The great parade of military and civil organizations was the most brilliant ever witnessed in the city's history. There were addresses at the centennial this afternoon. In the evening Mrs. Mary A. Livermore gave an interesting address on "Woman's Place in the Early History of the Country."

The English Grain Trade.

LOSKEY, July 16.—The English supply of grain July 14th was: Wheat, 22,418,000 bushels; corn, 9,833,000; oats, 3,443,000; rye, 143,000; barley, 149,000.

A Bill Introduced in the French Chamber to Prohibit Duelling—A German Editor Sentenced—France in No Hurry to Fortify—Foreign Notes.

By Telegram to The Times.

LONDON, July 16.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] In the Commons tonight, replying to certain interrogatories, the Government leader said that the suggestion that the Government had received from the Attorney-General any communications which had come to his knowledge as counsel in the O'Donnell-Times case was without the slightest foundation.

Sexton asked whether the Attorney-General was not consulted in preparing the motion or framing the bill as drawn in regard to appointing a commission to investigate the Times charges, and whether there had been no necessity to consult the Attorney-General.

Parnell expressed dissatisfaction with the explanation, and, for the purpose of obtaining full debate, moved an adjournment. The Speaker said this was clearly out of order, and refused to hear argument.

Gladstone asked for a vote on a motion for leave to introduce a bill for the appointment of the commission tonight. Smith hoped a vote would be taken, but said if it was opposed it could not be taken. He certainly would not occupy the time of the House in discussing the measure.

Parnell: Did the right honorable gentleman (Smith) mean to say that we are not to be allowed to debate the bill, but must accept, like sheep, the judgment of a jury of butchers?

Smith replied that if there was opposition, it would probably under a vote being taken tonight, whereupon the Parnellites members left the House to consult. Parnell said outside that the position assumed by the Government was intolerable and unheard-of. He must examine every possible bearing of the bill before he would permit it to proceed in the House. The Government had offered him as an alleged criminal, a tribunal of their own choosing, but had sought to defer him from debating the position.

After midnight Smith formally moved that the House permit the introduction of the bill.

Parnell opposed the motion. A more monstrous proposition had never been made by a minister occupying such a position. If the letters are genuine, the Parnellites are not an honorable but a dishonorable member. Parnell knew no reason why he should trust the Government and accept the bill without knowing the names of the judges selected by Smith. He would not say tonight whether he accepted or rejected. If he found on examination of the details of the bill in committee that they had to insure a fair inquiry he would insist on his right to enforce the judgment of the House.

After further debate on the motion of Smith the bill was read for a first time.

We have been more than surprised at the wonderful success we have attained in our clothing department, still busy as we try to enlighten the public and to show them the enormous profit they have been paying and the ones they should pay. We have a list of our goods which they may want to see worth your while to read and investigate.
